What type of volunteer work are you interested in doing?

	Conductor	Conductors greet the public, give directions and answer FAQs. This volunteer opportunity is great for anyone who enjoys interacting with visitors and providing great customer service. A "help guide" of frequently asked questions is available to help you answer our curious visitors.
	Modeler	Our team of modelers are the backbone of our museum, always working to maintain and improve our celebrated layouts. We have O, HO, N and G scale models in our museum. We are always looking for volunteers who like to work on the trains, clean the tracks, build and maintain new features on the layouts. Also, we would love to have extra volunteers who understand or would like to learn more about the electronics and controls to help our trains running smoothly. Some modelers have an interest in working with our teen volunteers in a mentoring capacity.
	Roadmaster	"I've been working on the Railroad" to help with building projects and facility improvements as directed by our site manager. Sometimes our museum needs a little fixing. Exhibit spaces, minor repairs, general maintenance are all needs we have for those with basic fix-it skills. On occasion, we have special projects, as well.
	Rail Tale Reader	Readers share train-themed stories with young children on the 1st and 3rd Monday of each month. Typically, we have 10-20 preschoolers and their adult caregiver here to enjoy a good story. Starting at 10:30, Storytime readers often include a craft, song or other creative activity with our young visitors.
	Gandy Dancer	Our handy Gandy Dancers cleaning crew meet the 1st Tuesday of every month at 9am to put a shine on our museum and a smile on our visitor's faces! Generally, we need dusting, window and exhibit glass cleaning, light vacuuming to make the museum spic and span.
	All Aboarder	All Aboard volunteers help in a variety of ways during special events throughout the year. Volunteer tasks for these events include selling tickets, serving refreshments, greeting visitors, and even an occasional opportunity to serve as Santa's helper.
